Pet Urine & Cat Spray Locator

Why use a black light: This black light is tiny, but effectively reveals pet urine deposits. You'll quickly discover urine deposits in areas you thought your pet would never go. You'll also be able to spot old urine deposits that may be the reason you have odors or your pet keeps urinating in a particular area.

Using a black light in a darkened room will make any urine stain glow. You will know where to clean and you will be able to check to make sure you cleaned the urine spot completely.

Poop-Off Superior Stain and Odor Remover and Dumb Cat Anti-Marking & Cat Spray Remover are the most effective urine and cat spray cleaners available. Ask your retailer for these products.

How to use the black light: You must be in a darkened area to use the light. Turn mini black light on and point at an angle about waist high (30 inches) or lower (12- 24 inches) over areas. (Shine all around toilets to see examples of glowing urine). Walk slowly around areas where pets have access and look for glowing areas. Mark with a piece of paper all soiled areas that need to be treated. Corners are a common spot for pets to urinate. Examine furniture and check every square inch of the home, garage and car interior. Turn mini black light off. Treat marked areas with effective pet stain and odor removers.
